

http://www.frru2.altervista.org/ARCH/VEP/VEP\_PP/pp3.htm

Both of these images from here.... At left, note egg shaped bird face with human female features... At right note stubby arm/wings, large owl eyes, and human torso

<https://www.pinterest.com/pin/394346511118030462/>

Note "Turkey" with "breasts" and "chevron" features which have been shown to be symbols of the feminine (pubic mound)

<http://centuriespast.tumblr.com/post/1181206537/figurines-of-standing-women-moldova-3rd>

At left, note bird faces and stubby arm/wings with holes, thought to be for inserting feathers.

At right, note bird face, stubby arm/wings, and human torso with chevron pubic mound.

<https://www.pinterest.com/pin/470837336021680873/>

